Claims 26 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

There is no antecedent basis for "clothing rack".

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5,2, 4-25, (26 and 27 in so far as understood), 28-45,47-53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Taylor 4,838,625 in view of Bollinger 310,784. Taylor, figure 1, teaches the device claimed absent the tray supporting surface sloping downwardly from the center thereof toward the outermost margin. Bollinger, figure 1, teaches a tray supporting surface sloping downwardly from the center thereof toward the outermost margin for the purpose of providing easier access to items stored thereon. To therefore modify the tray of Taylor with such a sloping surface margin for the purpose of providing easier access to items stored thereon would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Similar storage racks are illustrated by Pittman 2,326,064; Joyce 2,999,502; Stambaugh et al. 4,036,367.

Applicant's arguments and remarks have been considered but are considered moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.
